Lesson 63

Bible Study Question

Jesus said that anyone who does not carry his own cross and follow Him cannot be His disciple (Luke 14:27). He also said that making disciples involved baptizing people in the name of the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit and teaching them to observe all of His commandments (Matthew 28:19-20). Jesus also said that he who believes and is baptized shall be saved (Mark 16:16). He said that a person had to be born again, born of water and the Spirit (John 3:3-5). Peter told his listeners on the day of Pentecost that they needed to repent and be baptized (Acts 2:38). When Paul came to believe, he was baptized (Acts 9:17-18). Paul spoke of confessing and believing (Romans 10:9-10). He said that all who had been baptized had clothed themselves with Christ (Galatians 3:27). Peter said that baptism saves a person as an appeal to God for a good conscience (1 Peter 3:21).

The Greek word for baptism means immersion. John the Baptist baptized those who were repentant for the forgiveness of sins (Luke 3:3). Jesus was baptized to fulfill all righteousness (Matthew 3:15). John and the disciples of Jesus baptized people (John 4:1-2). Jesus instructed His disciples to baptize people (Matthew 28:19). Jesus said the one who believes and is baptized shall be saved (Mark 16:16). Peter told people to repent and be baptized (Acts 2:38). Ananias told Saul of Tarsus, "Be baptized, and wash away your sins" (Acts 22:16). Paul wrote that the one who has been baptized has been buried with Christ in the likeness of His death (Romans 6:4-5, Colossians 2:12). Paul also wrote that the one who has been baptized into Christ has clothed himself with Christ (Galatians 3:27). There is "one Lord, one faith, one baptism" (Ephesians 4:5). Peter wrote that baptism saves a person as an appeal to God for a good conscience (1 Peter 3:21).

10. Answers will vary, but might include: France had a bad situation in the privilege of the wealthy and royal classes and in the poverty and lack of rights for the poor. The French Revolution supposedly was an attempt to bring about greater rights, but it actually resulted in bloody conflict among those who wanted political power, forced conformity to the ideas of those who held power, and little improvement in the conditions of the poor. The revolution began a period of change in France that led to better conditions, but it had many tragic aspects. The benefits of the revolution and later periods could have been accomplished without the terror and injustice that characterized it. The revolution was also a bad solution in that its leaders rejected God, who is the true solution for man's problems.

Questions on Pride and Prejudice

1. Satirical writing uses ridicule, irony, and sarcasm to expose folly and vice. Satirical writing jestingly points out the faults of the subject.
2. Elizabeth had a tendency toward prejudice. She wrongly prejudged Mr. Wickham and Mr. Darcy. Elizabeth was disgusted with Mr. Darcy’s behavior early in their acquaintance, and she readily believed what Mr. Wickham said of Mr. Darcy. Mr Darcy was prideful toward several of the characters in the book, most notably to Elizabeth and her family. Mr. Darcy’s pride was particularly evident at the ball, when Elizabeth was staying at Netherfield, and when he made his first proposal of marriage.

3. Elizabeth's false opinions of Mr. Wickham and Mr. Darcy caused her subsequent grief.
4. Mr. Darcy's interference in Mr. Bingley's relationship with Jane and his prideful behavior toward Elizabeth and the Bennett family lowered Elizabeth's opinion of him, which influenced her initial refusal of his offer of marriage.
5. Greater respect for each other; more focus on what is eternally important; more guidance for their daughters without being overbearing; other answers possible
6. Elizabeth's opinion of Mr. Darcy changed after reading the letter he gave to her concerning Mr. Bingley and Jane and Mr. Wickham.
7. Courtship consisted of particular attentions between the young man and young lady. After such attentions were noticed by their family and friends, the pair were generally expected to marry. Personal fortune was a point of great importance in determining a husband or wife. In the engagements discussed in this book, the young man asked the young lady directly, though her father was applied to as well. Lydia and Mr. Wickham went away together unmarried, which was a great scandal and an object of shame to those connected with them. They were only later persuaded to be married.
