English: World Literature and Composition

Grade Level: High School (9th-12th grades)

Prerequisites: None

Text: Exploring World History by Ray Notgrass

Curriculum Publisher: Notgrass History

Course Description:

In this one-year survey course for students in grades nine through twelve, the student reads classic works of world literature including novels, short stories, devotional literature, plays, theological essays, biographies, memoirs, poetry, and hymns. Emphasis is placed on how the literature reflects the historical settings of the works. The student also has a weekly assignment of either an essay or another kind of creative project. Most of these essays and projects are based on historical issues from the various periods of world history. The writing assignments take several forms, including essays, editorials, speeches, and letters. The curriculum also assigns a research paper. Note: A student does not have to utilize this English course if he or she is enrolled in another English course. The history course is complete in itself, and this English course is parallel to the history.

Literature Assignments:

- The Cat of Bubastes (G. A. Henty)
- The Art of War (Sun Tzu)
- Julius Caesar (William Shakespeare)
- The Imitation of Christ (Thomas à Kempis)
- Here I Stand (Roland Bainton)
- A Tale of Two Cities (Charles Dickens)
- North and South (Elizabeth Gaskell)
- The Hiding Place (Corrie Ten Boom)
- Animal Farm (George Orwell)
- Bridge to the Sun (Gwen Terasaki)
- Cry, the Beloved Country (Alan Paton)
- The Abolition of Man (C. S. Lewis)

Selections from the In Their Words anthology:

- Poetry and songs by Anglo-Saxon, Canadian, Chinese, English, French, Greek, Japanese, and Jewish authors
- Short stories and oral histories from Australia, England, France, Germany, Iceland, India, New Zealand, and Russia

Types of Assessment Used:

Bible: Issues in World History

Grade Level: High School (9th-12th grades)

Prerequisites: None

Text: Exploring World History by Ray Notgrass

Curriculum Publisher: Notgrass History

Course Description:

This one-year course for students in grades nine through twelve provides an overview of the Bible and Bible history, including both its message of faith and how it complements our understanding of history. The student reads several complete books of the Bible as well as several of the Psalms and portions of other books. Topical studies bring Biblical teachings to bear on many of the historical issues discussed. Note: This course involves assignments during the first four assignments each week. The fifth and final lesson in each unit focuses on one of the topics listed below. If the student does not need elective credit for Bible, then the student does not have to complete the Bible assignments. In this case, the student should still study the fifth lesson in each unit as part of the world history course.
